During the students' residence at the host institution, the partner universities treat the students in the Dual Master's Degree Pathway as fully equivalent to their own students with the same rights and responsibilities.

All students participating in the Dual Master's Degree Pathway must follow the rules and regulations, including those relating to research ethics, of both institutions. The parties are committed to ensuring that all students conduct themselves in a manner consistent with the Carleton University Academic Integrity Policy and Merkblatt Plagiate - Prävention und Massnahmen.* Recognizing that regulations and practices relating to academic integrity and intellectual property, as well as the culture related to their enforcement may vary, all participating graduate students are required to review, comprehend and adhere to the Carleton University Academic Integrity Policy and Merkblatt Plagiate - Prävention und Massnahmen* upon commencing a Dual Master's Degree Pathway. In the event of contradictory regulations between institutions, the Deans of the Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Affairs (or equivalents) shall determine a collective solution. Travel, applicable immigration fees, accommodation, health care, and other living expenses will be the responsibility of the student, but the parties undertake the best efforts to look for adequate solutions for the students.
