

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

IN COOPERATION WITH THE DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY

Global Fields and Historical Sociology

A Workshop with Prof. Julian Go

Distinguished Guest:	Prof. Julian Go Department of Sociology, Boston University
Organizers:	Martin Bühler and Martin Petzke
Date:	Thursday, May 8, 2014, 9:30 am – 5:00 pm
Room:	3.A05 (morning) and 4.A05 (optional afternoon session)
Language:	English
Contact:	The number of participants is limited. To register or for further information, please contact Martin Petzke at martin.petzke@unilu.ch . Deadline for registration: March 31, 2014.

Content:	The workshop will offer a forum to discuss work of Prof. Go as well as own projects that are situated at the intersection of history and sociology and/or bring global perspectives to bear on sociological field theory. The emphasis lies on general methods of comparative history and/or on field-related perspectives that address <ul style="list-style-type: none">• relational factors within global configurations of actors• the emergence, globalization, and/or transformation of institutional logics or “rules of the game”• specific forms of symbolic capital and competitive engagement within circumscribed social orders of transnational scope. Papers of approximately 5-10 pages should be submitted and distributed 10 days in advance. People who do not wish to present anything but would like to participate in the discussion are welcome to register.
-----------------	--

Note:	The workshop is aimed at PhD students and post-docs. This is a course teaching academic skills in methodological or theoretical aspects (see Guidelines for the Doctoral Regulations).
--------------	--

Lecture:	Prof. Julian Go: Wednesday, May 7, 2014, 5:15 pm – 7:00 pm Room 3.B58 “Postcolonial Thought and Social Theory” All interested parties are welcome
-----------------	---