

Faculty of Law

Global Legal Studies (GLS)

A new certificate programme for international students

Certificate programme “Global Legal Studies (GLS)”

What is GLS?

The Faculty of Law at the University of Lucerne offers a new certificate programme for incoming students at Master’s level – “Global Legal Studies: International Economic Law, Human Rights and Sustainability (GLS)”. The idea behind the programme is to strengthen the international profile and to position the Lucerne Faculty of Law as an educational institution with a rich offer of English language courses that is uniquely equipped to attract international students.

Why?

Are you interested in a different learning experience with active academic interchange in an inspiring environment? Are you eager to understand international, transnational and comparative legal systems, processes and regimes? Then, join us in the GLS programme!

The GLS certificate adds value to your professional profile and offers many advantages, in particular in the fields of international economic and human rights law, as well as for jobs that demand a deeper understanding of global law and policy.

How?

- No specific admissibility requirements, except for being officially admitted as an international exchange student at the Faculty of Law in Lucerne
- Choose 5 courses and earn an equivalent of 25 ECTS credits from the English language courses offered at the Faculty of Law (www.unilu.ch/courses-in-english)
- No additional fees apply
- Upon completion of the programme, a certificate in “Global Legal Studies: International Economic Law, Human Rights and Sustainability” will be awarded

Interested in knowing more about our GLS programme?
Please take a look at the Faculty Guidelines.

For further information and consulting, please get in touch with the academic student advisors at studienberatung-rf@unilu.ch