

University Teaching in Focus

Introduction in Teaching and Learning

Tutor & Affiliation	Daniel Gysin, Lecturer in Science Education at the University of Teacher Education Lucerne (PH Luzern) and research associate at the Institute of Education in Science and Social Studies
Language	English
Participants	max. 16 participants
Content	This course is an introductory class in the basics of didactics and it is aimed at (post)doctoral students who are teaching lectures or seminars at the University of Lucerne. During the two-day workshop, the following elements will be discussed and trained: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Key characteristics on successful teaching from a teaching research perspective • Basic knowledge of general didactics, university teaching and teaching methods • Good approaches for an effective course design with meaningful tasks • Guidance for planning, conducting, and reflecting on (block) courses • Discussion of (online) teaching examples • One-to-one training sessions Further topics will be tailored accordingly to the participants' needs.
Prerequisites/ Materials (optional)	Participants will have to prepare a 15 minute teaching session in advance in order to be evaluated by the tutor and receive consultation and guidelines for their future teaching activity
Notes	This Graduate Academy offering is directed at researchers, post-docs and doctoral students at the university of Lucerne and its partner institutions and is free of charge for these persons. For persons not affiliated with the University of Lucerne, the course fee is CHF 600/day. Certificates with the respective ECTS-Points are prepared on request (graduateacademy@unilu.ch).