UNIVERSITY OF LUCERNE

UNIVERSITY MANAGEMENT
SAFETY OFFICE

Date: 01. August 2026

Safety in the University/PH building

Recognise – Think – Act

The University/PH building is a safe place to learn and work. Keeping it that way is everyone's responsibility. That means recognising hazards, assessing the situation and acting appropriately. Anyone who stays alert and reports anything unusual is helping to keep the building safe. In a medical emergency, a defibrillator (AED) and other first-aid equipment are available in the entrance area.

In the event of a fire

- Raise the alarm: call the internal emergency number 041 229 50 50 or activate a manual fire alarm
- Warn people and rescue injured, disabled and other endangered persons and bring them to safety
- Only tackle small fires at the source, and never put yourself at risk

In the event of an alarm

- A whistling sound on its own does not mean you need to evacuate
- If you are in class, stay calm and wait for the announcement
- Follow instructions from lecturers, the public address system and security staff

In the event of an evacuation

- Instructions given via the public address system and by security staff must always be followed
- Lecturers will help ensure the evacuation runs smoothly and in an orderly manner
- If instructed to do so, leave the building calmly and quickly
- Take your personal valuables with you
- Close windows and doors if possible (do not lock them)
- Proceed to the designated assembly point
- Remain at the assembly point until further instructions are given

Important information

Alert during opening hours:

- University/PH emergency number: 041 229 50 50

Emergency contact outside opening hours:

- Fire brigade 118
- Police 117
- Ambulance 144
- REGA 1414
- Tox Info Suisse 145

First aid:

- Defibrillator (AED) in the entrance hall of the University/PH building
- Further first-aid supplies and assistance via the University/PH emergency number

Contact and further information:
Email: sicherheit@unilu.ch
Website: www.unilu.ch/sicherheit