Mobility Report: Luke Bell, Tasmania, Australia- Fall 2015.

After completing a semester abroad, I am truly grateful that I chose Lucerne as my destination. The Courses offered by the university were interesting, challenging and informative. The professors were incredibly knowledgeable and understanding in catering for the needs of students. I found that the workload was manageable, and allowed me ample time to socialize and travel. The University offered oral examinations for some of the courses I was enrolled in. While this was a new experience for me, I found it was a great way of showing my understanding of course content and less stressful than written examinations.

As with any exchange experience, it is what occurred outside the classroom that was most memorable for me. The University offered a number of social activities in the law faculty, which allowed me to meet new people from my course. I have made lifelong friends during the exchange program, thanks to the small class sizes and social opportunities offered by the University. Not only have I made lifelong friends, but I have fallen in love with Switzerland during my stay. The locality of the University in the center of Switzerland made travel around the country incredibly affordable and practical. Through my numerous trips around the country, I can positively affirm that Switzerland is one of the most spectacular places I have ever visited, with medieval towns, snow capped mountains, rolling grassy hills, and enormous glacial lakes.
