

Ivana Igic occupies a role at ETH Zürich's Military Academy (MILAK), where she is a Leadership docent and the head of the Leadership and Communication study. Her research, utilizing sophisticated quantitative methods, encompasses organizational behavior, occupational health, and career studies. Further, her research interests include leadership, aging, and diversity, with a special emphasis on military organizations. Her findings are published in leading scientific journals such as the Journal of Applied Psychology, the Journal of Occupational Health Psychology, and the Journal of Organizational Behaviour.

In the upcoming research seminar, Ivana Igic will discuss her areas of research interest and highlight some of her recent academic papers. Additionally, the seminar will provide a platform to share future research plans and interests in the context of her new role at the military academy. This presentation aims to outline both her past achievements and future aspirations within her academic field.